

Reversal Times

- 1) 9:35 – Watch for flurries, entries on gap pullbacks, and mark the 5-min high/low.
- 2) 10:00 RT. Look to sell any stocks from the morning session. Mark the 30 min high/low of the Q's.
- 3) 10:30 – 2nd morning session reversal time, if the market or stock did not reverse at 10 o'clock, it will likely reverse now.
- 4) 11:15 – End of the morning trend. Last reversal time for morning session. It's most significant if we didn't get a reversal at 10:00 or 10:30.
- 5) 12:00 – Beginning of doldrums, most important reversal time if the market was unidirectional or dead all morning.
- 6) 1:15 – 1:30: Midday reversal time, most significant when it coincides with a prior top/bottom, or during extremely bullish or bearish markets.
- 7) 2:15 – 2:30: Continuation of morning session and reversal of the lunch move.
- 8) 3:00 – Continuation but in an accelerated fashion of the day's direction as a whole.
- 9) 3:30 – Reversal of move from 3:00 – 3:30 especially if it was unidirectional.
